HUMAN RIGHTS RESEARCHERS' WORKSHOP

Thursday, 30 July 2020 (via Zoom)

The workshop is aimed at postgraduate researchers working within the broad field of human rights at the University of Glasgow.

The objective of the workshop is to provide an informal and supportive forum for the dissemination and development of works-in-progress in light of pandemic-related conference cancellations and diminished opportunities to receive feedback.

We welcome papers from many (and multiple) disciplines including Sociology, Criminology, International Relations, Law, Politics, Migration Studies, Philosophy, Economics, and History.

Participation in the workshop is open to researchers at any stage of their postgraduate research studies, including Master's students currently writing their dissertations. We welcome work at all stages of development.

Presenters will be asked to circulate a summary of their paper ahead of the workshop and to give a 10-minute presentation of their paper. Each paper will be assigned a discussant.

Please send abstracts of up to 350 words to i.rodriiguez-toribio.l@research.gla.ac.uk by 7 July 2020.
