

Institution: University of Basque Country.

Academic Position: PhD Student. Predoctoral Fellow.

Hatin Boumehache has a BA in History (2016) and a MA in Ancient History and Classical Archeology (2017) from the University of Malaga. Since 2018 he works at the Department of Classical Studies of the University of Basque Country as a Predoctoral Researcher. His PhD thesis focuses on the political and diplomatic role for the Hellenistic queens with the Roman world. He is also interested in Roman matrons, collective memory, historiographic tradition and the representation of foreign women in Roman culture.